Background “The final message”	The final message is an social art project of the Spanish German artist Juan Petry. Typically Petry invites people to join his art projects to open a field for new experience and social skills. Everybody is invited to join the project with a private personal message to the future. All messages will be stored in wine bottles and mounted in a pillar. This pillar is part of an European art project of the sculptor Alfred Mevissen (GER). He united more than 100 artists to mount their own pillars of freedom. Officially the European project will be inaugurated in 9 of November 2017.	www.petry.eu/pof
